

BRITISH STEAMER IS HARD AGROUND

Indrakuala Has Big Hole in Starboard Bow and Forepeak Is Flooded.

CUTTER STILL STANDING BY

Reported That Government Will Investigate and Fix Blame for Collision.

Norfolk, Va., January 6.—Reports received in this city tonight from the British steamer Indrakuala, which collided with the steamer Luckenbach on Friday, sending that vessel to the bottom of Chesapeake Bay, indicated that the British ship is hard aground. The Indrakuala has a big hole in her starboard bow and her forepeak is flooded. No. 1 hold is also filled with water. The revenue cutter Apache is still standing by the vessel.

Captain Smith, commanding the British ship, is said to be greatly unstrung by the great loss of life. He is quoted as saying that he did all he could to save the men on the Luckenbach.

It is reported here tonight that the government will investigate the collision and place the responsibility. Steamboat inspectors here, who have jurisdiction in Chesapeake Bay, say they have not received instructions to investigate.

Towed into Hampton Roads.

Norfolk, Va., January 6.—With one member of her crew missing, her foremast gone, and the vessel leaking, the schooner Bessie Whiting was towed into Hampton Roads late today by the revenue cutter Onondaga. The Whiting, while bound to Port Royal from New Orleans, was caught in the gale of Saturday and blown more than 100 miles off her course.

She was sighted near Hatteras, but the Onondaga, after searching for her for thirty hours, did not find her until today. She was picked up off Cape Charles light.

Several members of the crew of the schooner were badly hurt by being thrown about the vessel by the gale. One member of the crew was washed overboard by high seas which broke over the vessel, but his name was not learned.

The Whiting is commanded by Captain Lowery. His wife is on board.

PRESENT ALLEN PETITIONS TO-DAY

Supreme Court to Receive Papers—First Cases Up for Argument.

Presentation of the petitions for writs of error in the cases of Floyd Allen and Claude Swanson Allen will be the feature of principal interest in the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia, which meets for its winter session this morning. Attorneys R. E. Byrd, H. M. Smith, Jr., and Hiram M. Smith expect to be ready with their papers. They have cumulative evidence to present to the court, some of which was not available when the original petition was filed.

There will be no argument on this application, but the court will render its decision within a few days. Should it be unfavorable, the final word must be said by Governor Mann. Appeals for executive clemency are now practically confined to argument for Claude Allen, on the ground that he was led into the murders by his father and uncle. Almost no one seeks commutation for Floyd Allen.

The first case on the docket of the court for argument is that of Tydale vs. the Commonwealth. The second is that of Wright vs. the Commonwealth, in which the prisoner, Wright, an Appomattox County negro, is under sentence of death for criminal assault.

Next to these two Commonwealth cases come the following privileged matters: Colonial Coal & Coke Co. vs. Ream et al.; Dismal Swamp Railroad Company vs. Koper Lumber Company; Bazborn vs. Smith; United States of America vs. William R. Trig Co. After these have been argued the calling of the regular docket will be resumed where left off in November with the case of the Savings Bank of Richmond vs. Todd et al.

FLORIDA FLIERS NOW IN OPERATION

Tourists' Winter Trains Begin Schedule—Will Run to Key West.

The geese commenced to fly South weeks ago, and now people from the frigid North are beginning their winter pilgrimage to the sunny climes. The famous traveling palaces of the Eastern railroads, the Florida specials, were put on yesterday, and the first trips of the season were begun yesterday morning from New York. The first northbound Florida special will leave Key West Wednesday morning.

Thanks to the engineering achievement of Henry M. Flagler, the southbound tourist can now step into the all-steeled vestibuled Florida fliers one morning in New York, spend two nights in his portable hotel, and wake up in Key West bright and early on the second morning out of New York. The completion last spring of Flagler's pet project, the steel and concrete viaduct connecting the mainland with far-off Key West across the Florida Keys, makes it possible for the New York trains to run into Key West without transfer, and puts Cuba within two days of New York.

The Seaboard "Florida Limited" and the Atlantic Coast Line "New York and the Atlantic Special" run to Richmond from Washington over the tracks of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railway, and give Richmond travelers two more trains daily to and from New York and the far South. Richmond hotels have already begun to feel the effect of the institution of the Florida specials, as many tourists prefer to break the long trip South by an agreeable stop in this city. The advance booking in local hotels has been unusually heavy, and indicates a busy season for the railroads.

Southbound, the schedule of the Coast Line flier is as follows: Leave New York, 12:38 P. M.; Richmond, 9:40 P. M.; Palm Beach, 11:10 P. M. (second day); Key West, 7:30 A. M. (third day). The Seaboard special has a schedule two hours earlier: Leave New York, 10:30 A. M.; Richmond, 7:25 P. M.; Palm Beach, 9:15 P. M. (second day); Key West, 7:30 A. M. (third day).

On the return trip, the northbound Coast Line special arrives in Richmond at 9:20 o'clock in the morning, reaching New York at 6:20 P. M. of the same day.

CLYDE SAUNDERS GOES ON STAND

Appears in Court as Witness for His Employe, Who Is Acquitted.

Clyde W. Saunders was a witness yesterday at the trial of S. B. Darst, one of his employes, who had appealed to the Henrico County Circuit Court from a magistrate's decision, convicting him of an assault on R. M. Duval in a dispute which is said to have arisen from Duval's alleged remarks about operations of Mr. Saunders's dairy farm.

Darst was acquitted by the jury yesterday. There was no evidence to connect Darst's testimony to the effect that both Saunders and Darst came to the place where he was staying and called him out to ask about what he said. He said he told the two he had not made the remark attributed to him, and that Saunders then hit him with a small whip and Darst kicked him.

The testimony of both Saunders and Duval had it that Duval used the epithet said to have passed, and that he employed it after they had asked him about his alleged statement. A man named Carter, with whom Duval was staying, testified that he heard vile language passing, but that it was then dark and he could not make out who composed the party.

Duval was formerly an employe of Mr. Saunders at the Arca Dairy Farm. It appears that after he left the job, a rumor reached his former employer about the alleged remark, and that, in company with Darst, Mr. Saunders went to Duval's boarding place to find out about the matter.

Negro Shot in Leg.

Frank Thomas, colored, was shot in the right leg last night about 9:30 o'clock at Third and Federal streets by a negro said to be Edward Ross, who resided. The two men are said to have quarreled over a debt of 50 cents, which led to the shooting. Thomas was treated by Dr. O. C. Bane, City Hospital, and was removed to his home, 1217 Beverly street.

Arrest of Attempting Woman. M. D. Wilson was arrested yesterday by Detective Anderson and G. F. Smith, on a charge of attempting to seduce a minor.

HIS SALARY RAISED

Efficient Service of Commonwealth's Attorney Is Specially Rewarded.

In recognition of diligent and efficient service to the county, the Chesterfield Board of Supervisors yesterday morning, of its own volition, unanimously raised the salary of Commonwealth's Attorney Haskins Hobson, $100 per annum. The meeting was held at Chesterfield Courthouse in compliance with a State statute, requiring a meeting of the board on the first Monday of each January, at which time the stipend of the county officials is fixed. The advance granted to Mr. Hobson was unopposed, and was a reward of merit for the extra work he has done during the past year, when many difficult questions regarding the rights of the county in their relations with the railroads arose. These were settled to the satisfaction of all parties and without friction. Indeed, the companies making many concessions that had never heretofore been granted without a resort to the courts. The compensation of the remainder of the officers will remain the same for the next year.

CAPTAIN GILBERT AND WIFE, BOTH DROWNED.

All water that now finds an outlet to the river through the gutters and makes the street crossings almost impassable during a heavy rain will be drained off by the new system being installed. As Twelfth Street is the apex of the hill, the water will naturally flow in both directions to the river.

While the work on Hull Street is being done another branch will be run up Stockton Street. Preparatory work for this sewer was also started yesterday. Both will be exactly in the center of the street and will have a branch to every house on the streets.

Cleans Hull Street. The first result of the kick made before the Richmond and Chesterfield Business Men's Association last Friday night, when the Street Cleaning Department came in for severe criticism because of the neglect shown the Southside, was evidenced yesterday when a visit was paid to this section by a force of men, and Hull Street given a cleaning such as it has not seen since the first few weeks following annexation. The secretary of the club has written to the Administrative Board and called its attention to the manner in which the Southside is being treated.

To Install Officers. The following officers elected at the last meeting will be installed to-night by Liberty Council, No. 12, Jr. O. U. A. M., at a meeting to be held in Robinson Hall.
